Employment History

Software Developer Intern; Federal Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development, Abuja

May 2021 — September 2021

- During a high-pressure release, I stepped in to streamline the bugtesting process. I implemented an efficient system that reduced bug resolution time by 30%, allowing the team to meet the tight deadline and ensuring a successful launch.
- My responsibilities also included the completion of vital maintenance tasks on existing programs, ensuring their continuedfunctionality and reliability.

Freelance Developer, Abuja

March 2022 — Present

- In a freelance role, I had the opportunity to lead a team of developers through a challenging project – migrating an existingAngular application to React. My primary goal was to seamlesslyintegrate this transition with the client's existing infrastructure, ensuring a smooth and efficient transformation that met their specific needs.
- As a freelance developer, I excel in high-pressure situations. Duringa critical project phase, I took the lead in streamlining a complexprocess, implementing innovative solutions that slashed time requirements. These efforts consistently enabled my clients tomeet their stringent deadlines, resulting in successful project launches without fail.
